Description:	The guest lecture on “Soft skills Vs Hard skills” of Pharmacy Profession was organized at Nanded Pharmacy lecture on 15/11/2021. The lecture encompassed various aspects. In today's dynamic work environment, employers increasingly recognize the importance of soft skills alongside hard skills. Soft skills contribute to building strong relationships, fostering effective teamwork, and adapting to changing circumstances. They are often associated with leadership potential, career advancement, and overall professional success. However, the specific importance of soft skills and hard skills can vary depending on the industry, job role, and organizational culture. At the end, question-answer session was kept for the students.

Report

The three-day session on communication skills was conducted by training & Placement Department from 11th-13th April 2022 with the aim of highlighting the importance of effective communication in various aspects of life. The session focused on three key areas: the importance of communication skills, verbal and nonverbal communication, and writing and presentation skills.

On First day, Dr. M H Ghante started the session with an exploration of the significance of communication skills in personal and professional life. Participants learned that effective communication is essential for building strong relationships, resolving conflicts, and achieving success in the workplace. The discussion emphasized the role of active listening, clarity, and empathy in effective communication.

The second day Mr. V N Gunjkar focused on verbal and nonverbal communication. Participants learned about the importance of both verbal and nonverbal cues in conveying messages accurately and comprehensively. The session covered topics such as body language, tone of voice, facial expressions, and gestures.

The final day of the session conducted by Dr. S K Sarje focused on the importance of effective writing and presentation skills. Participants learned techniques for organizing their thoughts, structuring their writing, and delivering engaging presentations. The session emphasized the significance of concise and coherent written communication, as well as the use of visual aids and effective body language during presentations.

The three-day session on communication skills provided participants with valuable insights into the importance of effective communication in various contexts. By highlighting the significance of communication skills, verbal and nonverbal communication, and writing and presentation skills, participants gained a better understanding of how to improve their communication abilities.

Report

The three-day session on communication skills and career development conducted by Training & Placement Department. Program aimed to equip participants with the necessary tools and knowledge to enhance their communication abilities and understand the crucial role communication plays in career success. The session focused on achieving effective communication and explored the components and characteristics of effective communication skills.

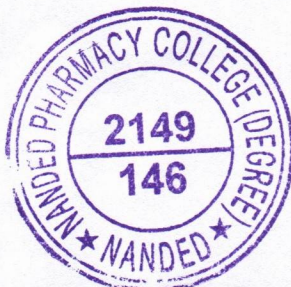

On the first day, the session began with an overview of effective communication. Participants were introduced to the concept of communication as a vital skill in personal and professional settings. It was highlighted the significance of effective communication in various aspects of life, such as building relationships, resolving conflicts, and advancing in a career. Participants learned about the importance of clear and concise verbal communication. Techniques such as active listening, using appropriate language, and effective presentation skills were discussed.

The second day focused on understanding the components of communication skills that contribute to effective communication. Participants learned the significance of expressing ideas clearly and concisely to avoid misunderstandings and facilitate effective communication. The session emphasized the importance of active listening as a vital component of effective communication. Techniques such as paraphrasing, clarifying, and empathetic listening were discussed.

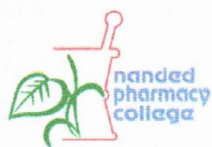

On the final day, the session delved into the characteristics of effective communication skills and their relevance to career development.

The three-day session on Communication Skills and Career Development provided participants with a comprehensive understanding of effective communication and its impact on professional growth. The session covered the essential components and characteristics of communication skills and offered practical strategies for improvement.

Description:	World Diabetes Day recognized on November 14th November 2018 at SSBES's Nanded Pharmacy College. The main objective of the event was to create awareness about diabetes, its risk factors, and preventive measures, while also providing an opportunity for individuals to undergo health checkups to detect diabetes at an early stage. The event began with a health awareness program that included informative presentations and interactive sessions conducted by healthcare professionals, nutritionists, and diabetes educators. They covered various topics, including the definition of diabetes, its types, symptoms, risk factors, and complications. They also discussed the importance of a healthy lifestyle, including diet, exercise, and stress management, in preventing and managing diabetes. A health checkup camp was set up at the venue, providing free screenings for diabetes and related conditions like Blood Glucose Testing &amp; Blood Pressure Monitoring. At the end of program, Tree plantation was done at the campus.

All the college staff members and students actively involved in the event and donated the blood. Blood donation plays a crucial role in healthcare systems worldwide. It is a selfless act of giving that contributes to saving lives and improving the quality of healthcare services. Blood donation has several health benefits for the donors themselves. It stimulates the production of new blood cells, helps maintain healthy iron levels, and reduces the risk of certain health conditions, such as heart disease and cancer. After blood donations, glucose solutions and biscuits were provided to the donors.
