Description:	The guest lecture on "Soft skills Vs Hard skills" of Pharmacy Profession was organized at Nanded Pharmacy lecture on 15/11/2021. The lecture encompassed various aspects. In today's dynamic work environment, employers increasingly recognize the importance of soft skills alongside hard skills. Soft skills contribute to building strong relationships, fostering effective teamwork, and adapting to changing circumstances. They are often associated with leadership potential, career advancement, and overall professional success. However, the specific importance of soft skills and hard skills can vary depending on the industry, job role, and organizational culture. At the end, question-answer session was kept for the students.

Report

The three-day session on communication skills was conducted by training & Placement Department from 11th-13th April 2022 with the aim of highlighting the importance of effective communication in various aspects of life. The session focused on three key areas: the importance of communication skills, verbal and nonverbal communication, and writing and presentation skills.

On First day, Dr. M H Ghante started the session with an exploration of the significance of communication skills in personal and professional life. Participants learned that effective communication is essential for building strong relationships, resolving conflicts, and achieving success in the workplace. The discussion emphasized the role of active listening, clarity, and empathy in effective communication.

The second day Mr. V N Gunjkar focused on verbal and nonverbal communication. Participants learned about the importance of both verbal and nonverbal cues in conveying messages accurately and comprehensively. The session covered topics such as body language, tone of voice, facial expressions, and gestures.

The final day of the session conducted by Dr. S K Sarje focused on the importance of effective writing and presentation skills. Participants learned techniques for organizing their thoughts, structuring their writing, and delivering engaging presentations. The session emphasized the significance of concise and coherent written communication, as well as the use of visual aids and effective body language during presentations.

The three-day session on communication skills provided participants with valuable insights into the importance of effective communication in various contexts. By highlighting the significance of communication skills, verbal and nonverbal communication, and writing and presentation skills, participants gained a better understanding of how to improve their communication abilities.
